

The Schiavo Memorial Library of Strathmere, the Wetlands Institute of Stone Harbor and the Strathmere Fishing and Environmental Club will present a fun and educational program for our children and adults regarding terrapin conservation on Thursday, July 17, 2014, beginning at 6:00 p.m. at the Schiavo Memorial Library in Strathmere.

The Wetlands Institute of Stone Harbor will conduct a presentation in the parking lot of the library regarding preservation of the local terrapin habitat. Children will be able to handle turtles during the presentation.

At the conclusion of the program, children will then have the opportunity to release turtles into the Strathmere Bay. Please join us for this fun and educational event.

The public is invited to this event. There is no admission fee. However, donations, which are tax deductible, would be greatly appreciated. For further information, call the Schiavo Library at 609-486-6265, email info@strathmerelibrary.org, or email Dick Omrod at omrod105@comcast.net.
